

Midway Reading Tip of the Month

March 2021

If you're finding that your child is struggling with reading you may want to try one or more of these tips.

Predict: What might happen in the story or what information might be in the text?

- Ask questions before starting the book, as well as before each chapter, or after every few pages.

Infer: What conclusions can you create based upon what you know and the clues from the text?

- Use the clues in the text to discover what is not directly stated.

Last Month's Tips:

Prior Knowledge: What do you already know about the content?

Compare and Contrast: What is the same and what is different?
